FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Salerno Center Launches Earoplane's™ to Alleviate Children's Travel Discomfort

Premiere New York City Health Care Center adds new innovative Solution for Children to its roster of all-natural, homeopathic supplements

New York, NY (June 15, 2014) – The Salerno Center, a leading center for complementary health care and medicine, is pleased to announce the release of Earoplane's™, a revolutionary new children's formula expertly designed to relieve ear pain during air travel. The new product will be available for purchase as of today.

Created specifically for children ages 4-12, Earoplane's™, a sugar-free, chewable tablet for children with chronic ear pain, especially when flying, is useful in relieving the pressure and stress often associated with air travel. Earoplane's™ is the first to combine natural plant-based ingredients such as Quercetin, Bromelain and L-Theanine with xylitol, and lou han guo fruit extract to provide safe and effective relief for children. 2 chewable capsules should be taken 60 minutes before boarding any flight to effectively and naturally ease ear pain.

“By launching the new Earoplane's™ chewable tablet for children, we can successfully grow our Salerno Solutions line of supplements for patients of all ages looking to naturally alleviate discomfort,” said Dr. John P Salerno MD, Founder of The Salerno Center and Salerno Supplements. “With Earoplane's™, we will be able to help children and families fly comfortably without the pain of high altitude pressure and prevent air-travel anxiety.”

Earoplane's™ will be available for purchase at salernovitamins.com as well as through The Salerno Center website and in their Midtown NYC offices. Earoplane's™ will be retailed at $60.00.
